BELLAMY ON HIS OWN STATE

He Is Not a Calamity Howler By Any Means

THE LEE MONUMENT BANQUET

Mrs Stonewall Jackson Invited to be Present—Gov. Tyler Will Not Assist in the Centennial.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 6—Representative Bellamy, of North Carolina, is evidently not one of those who believes that North Carolina is not in a prosperous business condition. He is quoted as saying that the cotton manufacturing industry in North Carolina is in a flourishing condition, and in this statement he agrees with other North Carolina people who frequently visit the national capital. Mr. Bellamy says that the factories are springing up all over the state. The congressman says that when he was at his home during the Christmas holidays, he noticed four or five new cotton mills going up. One of them, he says will be started certainly by February first. It is stated that in one of the districts of North Carolina, there is a cotton mill, which is operated exclusively by colored people. Most of the mills, however, employ only white labor, finding such labor in the long run much cheaper than the colored labor, which generally speaking is said to be shiftless and idle, and totally unfit to perform the work required in a cotton manufacturing establishment. It would be interesting, however, to know something of the success of the mill referred to above, which is said to be located in the congressional district of Representative Klutz.

Both Virginia and North Carolina people coming to Washington assert that business in their section has been much better this winter than it was last winter. While they will not assert that the states are on the high road of prosperity, they do say that they are much pleased with the business outlook, and believe that the favorable conditions will continue for some time to come

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson will probably visit Washington next week. The ladies of the North Carolina Association have telegraphed to her an invitation to come to Washington on the 12th instant on the occasion of the banquet to be given here in aid of the erection of a monument to General Robert E. Lee. Among those who will attend the banquet are the senators and representatives in congress; Hon. James E. Boyd, assistant attorney general; Hon. James L. Norris; Col. William Youngblood, of Alabama, auditor for the treasury; Dr. Thomas J. Boykin; Hon. Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, and Senator Joseph B. Hawley, of Connecticut, who is a native of North Carolina, and can therefore claim the right to participate in a movement to erect a monument to Gen. Lee, although he was a gallant soldier on the "other side."

Much regret is felt in Washington at the published report that Governor Tyler, of Virgina, has refused to participate in the centennial of the Federal capital. Acceptances have been received by the district commissioners from the governors of a number of southern states, including North Carolina. It is said the commissioners will invite Senator Daniel to participate as the representative of Virginia, or else will ask Lieutenant Governor Echols to participate in place of Governor Tyler. The reasons for the governor's declination are not known excepting to the district commissioners.

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, was at the white house the other day, but it is said that his visit had nothing to do with the case of Judge Ewart, whose nomination is still pending in the senate. Judge Ewart is in the city, and will be here a few days

Is the question that is agitating the minds of the lumber dealers of the south every time the performance of "A Country Visitor" is produced. The great wooded forests lose one of their huge trees in order to let the people see the great sawmill in full operation, actually sawing through the timber. You can see the flying sawdust, hear the clanking of the ponderous machinery, the height of stage realized. This is only one of the many surprises that awaits you if you attend the performance of the "Country Visitor," which will appear at the Academy of Music January 8th. BOER PRISONERS WANT PEACE

They Explain Why They Surrendered at Rensburg—Position Hopeless and Shelled from Three Places.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Cape Town, Jan. 6—A dispatch from Nauwpoort, dated yesterday, says there is an unconfirmed report that General French has entered Colesburg. In an interview today the Boer prisoners who were taken in the Rensburg fight, stated that they surrendered not because they were afraid, but because their position was hopeless and they were being shelled from three positions, and Maxims who commanded the retreat say the artillery fire was terrible and shells were apparently from all directions. All their horses were killed and they had no chance to escape.

The defeat is ascribed to bad generalship and delay in bringing guns The prisoners expressed admiration for the bravery of the British troops and all say they are anxious for peace. Some of them wept when speaking of their wives and children. They say they were surprised at the change of tactics on the part of the British. They expected a frontal attack.

PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT AGAINST VOLUNTEER.

The question has been mooted about making a move for a paid fire department for Greensboro. It is well worth considering.

Insurance men tell us that cities or towns having paid departments are rated as first-class; those with only volunteer departments as second-class. The difference between rates in a first-class town and a second-class town is quoted to us as being about 30 per cent. in favor of the first-class.

Then, take that item alone and figure it out. In Greensboro about $30,000 are annually paid in premiums. Make a liberal calculation and reduce it to 20 per cent. under first-class rating and you have a saving of $6,000 to the insured in Greensboro.

Then consider the three-fourths value clause, which prevails in second-class towns. By having a paid department, business men tell us, property can be insured for its full value. The saving in premiums would more than pay for the increased insurance.

The situation now seems to be about this: Through mere sentiment for the volunteer fire departments, the business men of Greensboro are carrying one-fourth of the risk themselves, when under a paid system they could get full protection for less money than they now pay for three-fourths.

There are other items to be considered and which we will notice later, viz.: the cost to the city of the volunteer departments and the cost of the paid departments, etc. We believe it can be shown by accurate figures and facts, that the city can maintain a paid department as cheaply as it does the volunteer departments, by including the savings to the insured. Think about it, and we will be glad to have an expression of public opinion on the subject.

JUST PUNISHMENT.

Our news columns yesterday contained an account of a white man being the victim of lynch law at Newport News, Va. The morning papers contain a fuller account today, and tell how the fiend incarnate, whose name was Watts, went to the house of Mrs. Thos. M. Simpson about three weeks ago a beggar and a tramp soliciting alms, which he received, and that he procured a stake, commenced gambling, was lucky, dressed up and returned to Mrs. Simpson's day before yesterday under pretext of thanking her. She did not recognize the tramp she had befriended. He followed her in the house, seized her by the throat and overpowered her.

He was captured, jailed and three masked men forced the jailer to deliver him up and by them he was turned over to an indignant mob of several hundred men on the outskirts of the city. The doomed man was carried to the home of Mrs. Simpson, who identified him as her assailant. He was then marched off, tied to a tree and shot to death.

The story is horrible to relate, but it shows that men will respect virtue and protect it, and it makes no difference whether the fiend's skin is white as a lily or black as hades. Lynchings are always to be deplored. It were better to mete out punishment by due process of the law and the statutes made and provided. But this is one crime that no statute reaches in a manner that fully satisfies the vengeance in the heart of man which its perpetration awakens to its fullest fury.

As long as the brutal crime is committed Judge Lynch will occupy the bench and from the execution of his judgements there will be no earthly appeal.

It turns out that the Lumberton trouble was no trouble at all, and the whole thing is believed to have been a piece of political trickery on the part of republicans in order to influence matters in Dockery's contest for Bellamy's seat in congress. We print other full report of the business in this paper today.

A good deal of fuss has been made over the British victories (so reported) over the Boers, the last week or two. These victories, however, are but small in consequence, and it is a question if the Boers are not yet having as much to crow over as the British One of the latest reports give it out that the British lost twenty men killed in a sortie made upon an impregnable Boer fort.

NO DANGER OF LYNCHING.

The Lumberton Trouble Probably a Scheme to Help Dockery.

The matter of sending troops to Lumberton to prevent a lynching was told in these columns yesterday. The article, however, should have been credited to the News and Observer From that paper today and from the pen of Fred L. Merritt, we get the following:

Lumberton, N. C., Jan. 5—There will be no lynching at Lumberton There would have been none even if troops had not been called out.

For this the citizens of this town have given their word in mass meeting assembled, and with these sturdy Scotchmen their word is their bond. The people here think they have been badly treated in this matter, and they do not hesitate to say so. They are of the opinion that they have been made the victims of a political scheme—a scheme to help Dockery in his contest for Bellamy's seat in congress.

Hence they are in bad humor with Governor Russell and with those who influenced him to send troops here, thus branding the people as law-breakers and giving the county a bad name. These were the sentiments freely expressed on the streets today and in the mass meeting held in the courthouse at 4 o'clock this afternoon. This meeting was attended by about two hundred citizens, among them some of the most prominent people in the town.

The meeting was announced simply by the ringing of the courthouse bell with previous notice, and within a few minutes the court room was well filled. Mr. John H. Morrison, the father of one of the young lawyers who procured Reuben Ross' reprieve was called to the chair. Mr. Frank Goff, one of the leading business men here was asked to act as secretary. In calling the meeting to order Mr. Morrison counselled prudence and extreme moderation.

"All we want is justice for ourselves and others, and that justice must be administered according to law. We have a law in this land and a governor, who is sworn to administer it. Let us hope he will do so."

WHO ASKED FOR TROOPS?

Prof. John Duckett spoke next, and after reviewing the situation he to enjoined moderation and good order upon his hearers. He pointed out how unexpected and unnecessary was the visit of the troops and said: "Now the question is who sent the governor that telegram—the one that he says caused him to send troops here. I don't suppose we will ever know."

"I am in favor of the law being allowed to take its course. When a man has been tried, convicted and sentenced the law should be carried out. (Applause.) There has never been a lynching in this county, nor any danger of one. (Applause.) When court was in session here a negro attempted to assault a young girl as she was returning from church. Did we lynch him? We arrested, tried and convicted him, and in less than forty-eight hours after the crime was commited, he was on his way to the penitentiary."

After reviewing the circumstances of Ross' crime Prof. Duckett continued: "He had a fair trial. He was convicted. We believe he is guilty and it is the spirit of our people that he pay the penalty. (Applause and cries of approval.)

"Who asked the governor to send troops here? Did you do it, Sheriff McLeod?"

Sheriff McLeod—"I did not."

Prof. Duckett—"Nor did the mayor. We have nothing against the troops personally, but we protest against their presence as without warrant of law and unnecessary.

SCHEME TO HELP DOCKERY.

"Why are these troops brought here? I'll tell you why. It is to influence congressional action in the Dockery-Bellamy contest. There can be no other reason.

"This negro was brought here when he committed the crime. We could have lynched him then. He has been here ever since, and perfectly safe. Once before he was reprieved. We offered no objection. We knew it was to give him time to meet his God. (A voice 'Well, he's not done it.') No, he curses those who go about him. He's a man of the very blackest record. Once before there was a warrant against him in Harnett county for this crime. He's been in the penitentiary three years for another crime He's a desparate fellow. Now he has blighted the life of a woman than whom no one can prove a better character. Such careers must be done according to law. (Applause.) I verily believe if this man were turned loose today it would not be many months before some other pure woman would suffer disgrace at his hands.

"Such men must be executed, but it must be done according to law, and, in favor of so expressing ourselves to the governor and to the people of the state. Our safety demands it. (Applause.)

Sheriff George B. McLeod made a short speech saying that the people of neighboring counties were aroused over the matter and he had been receiving telegrams during the day inquiring in regard to the situation.

"I have replied that there was no trouble here, that the trouble came from a false alarm sent to the governor, and who sent it we did not know, and I don't suppose we ever will know."

Clerk of Court W. H. Humphrey now moved that a committee composed of John Duckett, John Rowland, B. Goodwin, Frank Goff and J. H. Morson be appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sentiment of the meeting.

While this commite was out Sheriff McLeod made a speech highly complimenting the military company, and asking the people to make its stay in Lumberton as pleasant as possible.

"It is not," he said, "the governor's guard, as many of you supposed; it is the Raeigh Light Infantry." (Applause.)

Short speeches were made by R. E. Lee, a lawyer, and John Watson, a liveryman. Mr. Lee said: "Troops are sent here, we are placed under military law and branded as desperadoes, and for what? Because a negro fiend has outraged one of our fair women." Mr. Watson said he blamed those who influenced the governor in this action as much as he blamed the governor.

The committee on resolutions now brought in its report which was as follows:

THE RESOLUTIONS.

"Whereas, it was circulated and reported to the Governor that there was danger of lynching Reuben Ross, and in consequence of such information the governor of the state has sent a company of militia in the dead hours of the night to our town, unknown to us and without the request of either the mayor or sheriff or any known citizen, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we, citizens of Lumberton and Robeson county, deplore this action of the governor or any one making these misrepresentations to him by telegraph or otherwise. That we, citizens of this county, are opposed to lynch law and only ask that persons accused and duly convicted in the courts after fair trial receive such punishment as the crime commited demands. And we here and now, in mass meeting assemb.ed, assert that there was no danger of the lynching of Reuben Ross."

The reading of these resolutions was greeted with applause

When order was restored J. C. McNeill, one of the young lawyers who secured Ross' reprieve, stepped forward and began offering objections to the resolutions.

Sheriff McLeod interrupted him and said:

"We want a vote on these resolutions. If there's any man in the house that does not want to vote for them we want to know him now and hereafter"

There was now loud applause and much confusion, amid which McNeill started to leave the room.

"Come back," said several voices. "Let's have it out."

McNeill came back and asked another reading of the resolutions. They were read.

"I misunderstood the resolutions at first," he said. "I see no objection to them."

They were unanimously passed amid great applause, and the meeting adjourned.

All is quiet here tonight, but a detail of four soldiers is sleeping in the jail and the others are quartered at the house of Sheriff McLeod near by.

THE PRISONER ROSS.

Ross received the news of his reprieve from Sheriff McLeod with perfect indifference, saying he had expected to be hung today if Jesus Christ didn't interfere.

He is a heavy-browed, brutal looking negro, about 25 years old, with a bullet scar on the middle of his forehead. The jailer says he is the worst prisoner he has ever known in an experience of many years.

With the exception of his attorneys I have not found a single man here today who does not believe him guilty.

No, Maude, dear, we have never heard that the trough of the sea was especially made for the fish to drink out of.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. Geo. D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle-working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

When a man can't pay his gas bill and the meter is removed he usually keeps dark about it.

He Only Repeats What has been said Around the World.

It has been demonstrated repeatedly in every state in the union and in many foreign countries that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain preventive and cure for croup. It has become the universal remedy for that disease. M. V. Fisher, of Liberty, W. Va., only repeats what his been said around the globe when he he writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for several years and always with perfect success. We believe that it is not only the best cough remedy, but that it is a sure cure for croup. It has saved the lives of our children a number of times." This remedy is for sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Some women are never satisfied. If they get a pair of shoes that don't hurt they are mad because they didn't get a size smaller.

Bismark's Iron Nerve

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter nauseating tonics Price, 50c.

Only one bottle given to one person, and none to children without order from parents. No throat or lung remedy ever had such a sale as Boschee's German Syrup in all parts of the civilized world. Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you its success was marvelous. It is really he only throat and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75-cent bottle will cure or prove its value Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

The girl with red hair giggled. "So George has broken off your engagement, eh?" she remarked; "how sad" "Yes," replied the girl with blue eyes, who was equal to the emergency: "you see the doctor advised him to give up all sweets."

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, O., prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had kept her awake every night. She tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1 00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

BOONE, Iowa, Dec. 14.

No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.
MRS. GRACE LAMPHERE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

$400,000 FIRE IN RICHMOND.

Tobacco Warehouse and a Cold Storage Plant Destroyed.

Richmond, Jan. 5—Richmond suffered this evening the severest fire loss it has known for years. About 3 o'clock fire broke out in the Merchants & Planters tobacco warehouse, at Fifteenth and Cary streets, and which covered about a third of a block. In it were stored some 3,600 hogsheads of tobacco, 2,600 of which belonged to the American Tobacco Co., and the rest to various parties residing here and elsewhere. In an incredibly short space of time the interior of the building was a roaring furnace, and hope of saving the structure or any of its contents was idle.

The destruction was complete. The flames spread across Fifteenth street to Kingan's cold storage plant, across Cary to Carter & Ryland's commission house, and rearward to a vacant machine shop building. The damage to the last two was slight, as was that to Davenport's warehouse, in the vicinity, but Kingan & Company suffered a loss of some $300,000, fully insured. The loss on the tobacco in the Merchants & Planters' Warehouse is estimated at $750,000; with insurance about $300,000. The building was fully insured. Total estimated loss, $400,000; insurance, $350,000.

Fireman Bullington was overcome by heat and smoke, and is still in an unconscious condition. The proximity of the burning warehouse to two of the city's great gas holders, caused serious fear of an explosion. At times the holders were so hot that the paint peeled off.

To the Public

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. VESSELS WAITING FOR COAL.

Railroads are Unable to Supply the Foreign Demand.

Norfolk, Jan. 5—Despite the heavy increase in shipments of Pocahontas coal to this port, consequent upon increased provision of cars by the Norfolk & Western Railroad Company, the demand cannot be supplied. There are now nearly 75 vessels here awaiting cargoes, and it will be weeks before their bunkers are all filled. No trouble has been experienced in supplying the local demand, but foreign orders have so multiplied, partly because of a reduction of 25 cents per ton in price of bunker coal, that they cannot be promptly.

A number of vessels have taken advantage of the enforced delay and are having extensive repairs made at the ship yards. The same conditions prevail at Newport News, Wilmington, Charleston, Baltimore and other South Atlantic ports. Both the Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western Railroad Company have given orders for a large number of coal cars to bring the product of their mines on their respective lines to the seaboard.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

The timid lover trembled. "What was that terrible noise down stairs?" he asked; it sounded like a bofler explosion." "Never fear dearest," replied the joy of his soul; "it's only papa breaking a couple of his New Year's resolutions.' And peace reigned again.

J. I. Bevry, Logan ton, Pa., writes: I am willing to take my oath that I was cured of pneumonia entirely by the use of One Minute Cough Cure entirely after doctors failed. It also cured my children of whooping cough." Quickly relieves and cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Children all like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

DONT! WOMEN.

Don't write to a woman, when the roof leaks. Write to a carpenter. Don't write to a woman when the water pipe bursts. Write to a plumber. Don't write to a woman when you are sick, write to a doctor. But why such superfluous advice? Simply to call attention to the fact that "women" who are not qualified physicians offer medical advice, in advertisements worded in such a deceptive manner that you are apt to overlook the important fact that the woman is not a physician.

The great success of Dr. R. V. Pierce, in treating and curing diseases of women has led to imitations of his methods, especially his offer of a free consultation by letter to all sick women. At the head of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., and with an experience of over thirty years, Dr. Pierce has achieved the position of the chief of specialists in the treatment of woman's diseases. There is no living physician, male or female, who can show an equal record of over half-a-million women treated and ninety-eight per cent. of cures. Write to the doctor. Your letter will be read in private, answered in private and its statements held as sacredly confidential. To assure the exclusion of a third party from this correspondence, every letter is sent sealed in a plain envelope, bearing no advertising or printing upon it. Address Dr. R. V. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief in a very short time. The sales are growing and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

In August we promised you that on January 1st, 1900 we should retire from business. This promise was based on the belief that a reasonable proportion of the promises made to us would be kept.
